[22/01/17][22:51:21] -

Title: A Paradox of Virtues

Author: Auldrek

Enclosed within are my thoughts on the current political uprisings within the realm of Sossaria.

Please read this excerpt from
"My Story" by Sherry
the mouse.
"Aid the nobility that resideth in the human heart.Proctect the Virtues that so
recently came to thee
in thought last night.
They are the Virtues of life, as your counterpart understands them to be. For when thy populance doth live and breathe these Virtues,
shall it match the true Britannia, and thy shard rejoin with it."

I would ask thee
fellow enlightened peoples what cause is it that we fight? Some fight against FoA (Followers of Armageddon). Some fight with FoA and seek to Dethrone Lord British. Why? What will Dethroning Lord Britsh accomplish?

Will it prevent this shard from following the Virtues and bringing about the merging of our shard with the main shard? Nay I say! For the FoA and it's followers hold these Virtues in the highest esteem. As they themselves have many times stated. They wish a council made up of the most Virtuous of each town. They wish a council where all the Virtues are represented. Will this not bring us more speedily to the mergence of our shard to the main? If we look at Blackthorns new idealogy that Virtues must be "Enforced" we see the only solution for that is antithesis to the Virtues themselves. Perhaps Blackthorn is not under the sway of the Shadowlords and is infact the only man in the realm to see things clearly. While I do not support "enforcement" of Virtues I cannot support the FoA who would bring about the ruination of our shard even faster than Lord British. Think ye on these words people of this realm and read of Sherry's story. Know that what I speaketh is truth. We are on a dangerous path

towards a true Armageddon unless we find another solution to both British and the FoA. Whilst I hold the Virtues dear to my soul I fear they shall destroy us.
Listen not to FoA's tainted words for if they truly sought to preserve our land and our lives they would not depose British and install a Democracy
based on the very Virtues that will destroy us. Ask yourselves what FoA
is really after my friends.
-Auldrek, Eldar TDD

DfV will strike
again...
and again